UCONN

PEOPLE EMPOWERING PEOPLE

Coventry, Mansfield and Chaplin are pleased to offer the UCONN People Empowering People (PEP) class this winter!

What is UCONN PEP? The UCONN People Empowering People (PEP) Program is a parent leadership program. UCONN PEP is designed to build on the unique strengths and life experiences of participants and emphasize the connection between individual and community action.

How does UCONN PEP work? UCONN PEP participants attend ten weekly two-hour sessions focused on values, communication skills, problem solving skills, parenting skills, leadership skills, action planning and community opportunity. Participants then participate in a project to benefit their community.

Who conducts UCONN PEP? The facilitators will be Kathleen Krider and Jeff Smithson (to learn more about them, visit www.coventrysteps.com).
